

God's Promises

Dear (Insert Name),

Today is a new day. Start fresh in the grace that I offer you. Be renewed by the hope that I promise. Find yourself embraced by my loving arms. You, my child were bought with the precious blood of my son Jesus Christ. He conquered death and rose from the grave for you. Because Jesus died you and I will get to spend eternity together.

I know your days can be difficult at times, but I want you to remember that every promise I have given in the Bible is for you. Please cling to my promises when the storms of life hit. Remember that I love you. I have called you by name.¹ Child you are mine! I have adopted you as my own. There is nothing that can separate you from my love.²

The blessings I promise in my Word are yours. I desire to be your comfort, refuge, and safety. I want to protect you from the craziness of life and give you the power to overcome even the most difficult of battles.³ This power can be found in my Holy Spirit who dwells in you from the moment you give your life to me. Please run to me and find peace for your soul.⁴ My heart longs to love you, provide joy for you, and be the hope that keeps you moving forward.

This world will try to keep you bound by the chains of its' expectations, but I want you to live in the freedom that I offer. My promise of grace and mercy is yours. There is nothing you have to do to earn it. My grace and mercy are freely lavished on you because you are my child.⁵

Come close to me and I will come close to you.⁶ Cling to me and know that I have nothing but the best in store for your life. I know sometimes the purpose for your life seems kind of cloudy, the waters a little murky, and the depth of pain a little extreme. But I promise you that I will be with you.⁷ I will bring you through to experience victory, for every success is truly yours as my child.⁸

I know you may feel weak right now. That's okay! I want to be your strength.⁹ I want you to depend on me for guidance and trust that I will deliver you from the darkest of hours. With me by your side you are truly more than a conqueror.¹⁰ My favor rests on you and my eternal rewards are surely yours. The redemption of your soul was bought by my son Jesus Christ.¹¹ Through redemption you can now experience the abundant life that I have promised to you!

I offer you forgiveness. There is no one in this world who can forgive you like I forgive you through the blood of my son. I do not count your sins against you. They are separated as far as the east is from the west.¹² I love you my child and I am setting up eternity for you.¹³ You have an eternal home with me that can't compare to your life on earth. In this world, you will experience pain, suffering, and brokenness. But one day when you come to the place that I have prepared for you there will be no more sorrow, no

Right now, here on earth I will provide you with what you need. At times you may not feel that it's enough, but I promise you it is. I will never leave or forsake you.¹⁵ I will walk through life with you. I will be there when life hurts and when nothing makes sense. I will give you the power to overcome the enemy's plots against you and through Jesus you will receive every victory I have promised to you in my Word.

Please continue to cling to me. Know that I have the absolute best in store for you. I will be here every step of the way. I have loved you my child with an everlasting love and nothing will ever separate you from my love.¹⁶ Walk in assurance that every promise is yours. I will come through for you. I will be your steady fortress. I will be the God of victory in your life both now and forever more!

God
